

SHORT COURSE DETAILS

WE6658 VIOL CONSORT MUSIC

Tutor: ALISON CRUM

Dates: WEEKEND FRIDAY 6 JANUARY – SUNDAY 8 JANUARY

ABOUT YOUR COURSE:

This course is intended for intermediate and advanced players of treble, tenor or bass viols, who are confident in sight reading and playing one to a part. 17th Century English music will form the main area of study.

The focus is on working towards playing as a consort, improving the quality and variety of sound on the viol and understanding more about how to play the music in a stylistically appropriate way.

Students will be accepted in order of application, subject to level of experience and a suitable balance of players. Places are limited, so any deposit paid will be refunded if your application cannot be accepted.

LEVEL: INTERMEDIATE/ADVANCED

For those who have attended previous viol courses at West Dean, or already have considerable experience of playing in viol consorts. If you are not already known to Alison you will need to provide full information about your playing experience, with your application by returning the attached form.

ABOUT YOUR TUTOR:

Alison Crum is one of Britain's foremost viol players. She began her musical career on the French horn, but turned exclusively to early music in the late 1970s, studying the viol with Wieland Kuijken in Brussels, and Jordi Savall in Basle. She performs regularly with many of Britain's best early music groups, and with them has made over 90 recordings. She is also in great demand as a teacher and has travelled all over the world giving recitals and teaching on summer schools and workshops. Alison is Professor of Viol at Trinity Laban Conservatoire of Music and Dance in London, and a regular visiting teacher and advisor to the Making Stringed Musical Instruments diploma course workshop at West Dean. She is also author of two highly acclaimed books 'Play the Viol' OUP 1989, and The Viol Rules, 2009 and is President of the Viola da Gamba Society of Great Britain.
