S5D07275 CREATING AND DEVELOPING A SKETCHBOOK

Tutor: MAXINE RELTON

Dates: 5 DAYS SUNDAY 15 OCTOBER – FRIDAY 20 OCTOBER

ABOUT YOUR COURSE:

This course will range through approaches to drawing and painting, writing and recording to capture the immediacy of our inner and outer world in figurative and abstract forms. Ways of working using text and image will be explored, from close observation to memory and imagination, from spontaneous to more considered responses. No experience is necessary and all abilities are welcome.

The first evening's project helps you discover the kind of drawing hand that is most natural to you as a good basis for developing and extending your sketching abilities.

Throughout, we will give time to sharing and reviewing our discoveries and interpretations. By the end of the course, you will have an understanding of your own drawing strengths, an awareness of different approaches and experience of a wide variety of tools.

We will use the College grounds and gardens some of the time, so an umbrella plus warm, shower-proof clothing are recommended.

LEVEL: SUITABLE FOR ALL

A subject focused course that is delivered to suit any level of experience from beginner to advanced practitioner. A structured start is followed by guided independent practice.

ABOUT YOUR TUTOR:

Maxine Relton's work focuses mainly on drawing, painting and printmaking. A graduate of Camberwell and the Slade School of Art, she runs a gallery of her own work in Gloucestershire and is an elected Academician of the Royal West of England Academy.
