S3D07388 MIXED MEDIA LANDSCAPE PAINTING

Tutor: JO DIXON

Dates: 3 DAYS SUNDAY 22 OCTOBER – WEDNESDAY 25 OCTOBER

ABOUT YOUR COURSE:

Explore mixed media and creative approaches to develop your own interpretation of landscape through recorded, remembered and imagined themes. Working inside the studio and outside in the inspiring West Dean environment (weather permitting), learn mixed media techniques and then develop them in your painting.

You will expand your visual language through experiment and with guidance. Looking at line, composition, colour, pattern and texture you will be encouraged to develop your own artistic ideas to express a personal vision.

You will develop an awareness of colour through studies and combinations and will work in a variety of scales using mixed media including acrylics, inks, pastels and collage materials. You will learn to build a richness to the surface of your work with expressive drawing and mark making, layering, colour, pattern and texture, whilst exploring collage and simple printing techniques.

The tutor will support you with a series of demonstrations plus one to one guidance to help you discover how to apply techniques to your own work. You will complete a series of experimental studies or work towards a finished piece(s).

Is there anything a potential student needs to be able to do to succeed on this course?

Bring an open mind to experiment and a joy of colour, pattern and texture.

LEVEL: BEGINNERS/INTERMEDIATE

For those with little or no experience and for those who have taken a related course. Suited to those who would like a structured introduction to a subject, with further building of skills to work towards independent practice.
